STURGEON BAY, SATURDAY, SEPT. 16, 1905

Local News.

—A heavy rain visited this region Thursday evening and continued throughout the night.

—The train did not get in until noon Saturday, the train on the Kewaunee end having blown out a cylinder head when a short distance this side of Green Bay.

—Capt. A. Kalmbach reports the receipts of fish as rather light, a usual condition at this season of the year. A revival is not looked for for another month or so.

Trouble among the shingle weavers in the Pankratz mill Monday resulted in about half the crew being discharged, since which things have been running more smoothly.

—One of the weather sharps states that a wet summer is a certain indication of a windy fall. We are therefore entitled to a few good-sized cyclones, judging from the moisture that has fallen.

—The nights have been very cold since Tuesday and the temperature has nearly reached the freezing point. The weather during the day has been all that could be desired—warm and balmy.

—Word was received here Wednesday by relatives announcing the death of John Kaufman at Manitowoc. The deceased was formerly a resident of this city, being the father of Charles and Levi Kaufman.

—The Board of Education met in regular session Monday evening. There was nothing of importance outside the regular routine of allowing bills. A report was made to the effect that the Third ward school had been repaired and renovated.

—Dr. H. A. Norden is making preparations to build a commodious residence on the premises now occupied by the family. The present structure has been sold and will be removed. The family will occupy the L. Reichel residence meanwhile.

—Miney Lawrence is engaged in clearing out the bull-rushes that grow in profusion in the water in front of "The Cove" at the head of the bay. A scythe is used to do the work and it is claimed that the weeds can be entirely destroyed by this method.

—The air chimney on the school house was on Wednesday covered with a cap or hood to prevent the swallows from using it as a nesting place. It is the intention this fall to remove every other tree planted around the school yard to give the remaining ones a chance to spread.

—On Saturday while working on a barn which A. McKercher is having built on his lot in the Third ward, the scaffolding broke and A. D. Thorp and Geo. Stoneman were precipitated to the ground a distance of about 18 feet. Strange to relate neither one of them suffered any serious injury.

—One of the new rollers which the city contemplate purchasing arrived Monday and when the other is on the ground a test of merit is to be made when it will be decided which machine will be bought. It will probably be a week before the necessary stone can be quarried for the purpose.

—John, the 3-year-old son of Dr. T. A. Egan fractured his left collar bone Wednesday evening and will be obliged to carry his arm in a sling for a couple of weeks. While visiting at the home of his aunt, Mrs. John Ryan, the little fellow fell off a couch striking on the point of his shoulder, with the result above stated.

—The outgoing train on Monday morning was so crowded that standing room was at a premium. Matters were still worse by the time that Algoma was reached, and nearly every man gallantly turned his seat over to the ladies, many of whom were even then compelled to remain on their feet until the junction was reached, when the tension was relieved, an extra coach having been sent east from Green Bay.

—A couple of individuals who gave their names as Wm. O'Brien and Fred Smith were on Tuesday arrested by Policeman Weisner for being drunk and disorderly, and the following morning Justice Esson fined them $10 and costs, in default of the payment of which they were sent to the city jail for a period of 14 days. They had been fighting and were beastly intoxicated when taken in hand, being evidently a couple of roustabouts.

—The cement sidewalk builders have adopted a rate of 6 cents per square foot as the future price for putting in this improvement. Most of these walks were put in by the day and in some cases were laid for 4½ cents. The builders claim that when they do the work by the day they lose too much time on account of wet weather, by charging a uniform rate of 6 cents and furnish material they can afford to lose a day or two now and then and still make fair wages.

—The hill in front of the court house contains enough material to furnish all the gravel that will be required for walks during the remainder of the fall. It is the intention to build a walk along the side of the street at this point. Chris Daniels who has a row of trees along the westerly side, naturally objects to their destruction, but it is understood the city is willing to reimburse that gentleman for the loss and a satisfactory arrangment will no doubt be reached.

—Cement walks have been built in front of the J. S. Hay Co. and Rosenberg block during the past week. A stretch was likewise put in from Forest to Pine on the easterly side of Cedar street. The walk that is to be put in from Church street to connect with the walk of H. C. Scofield, was commenced Tuesday. This will be about 1000 feet in length and is a much needed improvement. A walk is likewise being put in from Merchants Exchange bank building to Spruce street.

—Following are the marriage licenses issued during the week: Leo Portzen and Ruby Edict, Clay Banks; Herman Moeller, city, and Annie Benzo, Nasewaupee; Arthur Robillard, Gardner, and Annie Bishnow, Sevastopol; John Tanek and Ida Klonsky, Egg Harbor; John Berger, city, Louisa Miller, Ephraim; Alfred Ehlers, Brownsdev, Milwaukee county, and Rosey Linder, Sevastopol; Aug. Corbesier and Eliza Laviolett, Gardner; Albert Pagenkopf and Ella Thenell, Sevastopol.

—A young man whose home is in Sevastopol arrived in the city late one night and being heavily laden with baggage slept in the barn of Wally Lawrence while on his way home. On being awakened in the morning by the owner of the premises he was given a good breakfast and took his leave. Not long after his departure numerous articles of wearing apparel that had been left in the summer kitchen were missed. Frank Fleck also reported the loss of similar articles. Base ingratitude this. He is known and will be called upon for an accounting.

—The proposition to build an electric road to the northern end of the peninsula is meeting with the approval of everybody who has the interests of the city and county at heart, and it is to be sincerely hoped that every one will put their shoulder to the wheel when the proper time arrives and assist in bringing about the desideratum. Organization is the life-blood of such a movement and it will need the united effort of all to bring the agitation to a successful termination, for it will require a considerable sum of money to accomplish what is desired and unity on the part of our citizens will make the task easier in interesting capital to invest.

—Neil, a son of Erve Long, came near losing his right eye by an accident that happened one day last week. He had a whip and was striking a tree when the lash wound around and the end struck him in the corner of the eye. The usual home remedies were applied and nothing more thought of the matter until a couple of days after when his mother became satisfied that all was not well and consulted a physician. It was found that one of the muscles had been badly injured, and doubts were entertained at being able to save the optic, but happily it has improved under treatment and will be all right, although for several days the vision was destroyed.

—Arthur Casperson, a 16-year old boy employed on the farm of Carl Gullickson, was quite seriously injured Sunday afternoon by the explosion of a charge of powder. The lad was making a cannon by putting a quantity of powder on a rock and placing another stone on top of the explosive and touching it off. On the occasion that the accident resulted he put in a much larger charge than usual and it exploded before he could get out of the way, filling his face and eyes with the powder. While his features were greatly swollen and lacerated the attending physician, Dr. Simon, states that the sight was not injured. The boy is an orphan and came here from Milwaukee.

Do Not Take Action.

At the meeting of the council Tuesday evening it was determined to defer action in the matter of revoking the licenses of Saloonkeepers Moore & Hitt and Fred. Hubert, in order that the city attorney might have time to look up the law carefully and decide as to whether the statutes had been closely followed.

Attorney Quinlan of Marinette appeared in behalf of the saloonkeepers and gave it as his opinion that the law had not been followed properly in several respects and the council had no authority under the circumstances to revoke the licenses of the parties named in the complaint. The case was accordingly postponed for one week, when the city attorney will be prepared to meet the contentions of the defendant's counsel and submit same to the city fathers.

The business transacted by the council outside the above was of little interest, being a rehash of matters that had been brought up before. It was decided to commence macadamizing and authority was given for the purchase of the necessary crushed stone from M. V. Cochems to lay one block or more as a sort of experiment.

The question of purchasing the right-of-way for Rieboldt avenue was discussed and George Wilkie was paid $350 for his lot. Other property that has to be purchased will be appraised if a price cannot be agreed upon. A board of appraisers were to have been appointed by Judge Dehos on Tuesday, but owing to the attorneys being busily engaged in the circuit court an adjournment was taken for a couple of weeks.

Broke His Leg.

Sydney, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Teweles, met with an accident Tuesday afternoon that resulted in a bad fracture of the bone of the left leg between the knee and ankle. He was coasting down the hill on Cottage street in a wagon in front of the premises occupied by A. Teweles when the vehicle became unmanageable, and being unable to steer it it ran straight for a tree on the side of the walk. Sydney put out his foot to stop the wagon and the force of the blow caused the bones of his legs to break, the larger one being splintered.

He was immediately taken to the home of A. Teweles and Dr. Reuden summoned, who upon examination advised that the boy be taken to Milwaukee for treatment. He was accordingly got in readiness, and accompanied by his mother, the doctor, and Arthur Teweles, took the boat for Green Bay the same evening, and the following forenoon was in the Cream city, where the limb was set and the bone wired, and at last reports there was every indication that the leg would mend nicely, although it was feared it would prove a serious affair.

Jeff Teweles, who was on a visit, met the party at Green Bay, and on being apprised of the mishap, returned with them to Milwaukee.

Among the Churches.

MORAVIAN CHURCH.

Mrs. Alex. Anderson entertained the ladies aid on Wednesday afternoon.

There was a large attendance at the C. E. meeting on Tuesday evening. Archie Mann acted as leader. We hope to have as many to our C. E. meetings as we have to our Sunday evening services.

We are glad to have two young men from this congregation preparing for the ministry, Herbert Johnson who has two years left, and Archie Mann who enters this fall. Both of these young men are highly thought of in this community where they have been brought up. They will leave this Saturday morning for Bethlehem, Pa.

The pastor will be in Grand Rapids on Sunday. The services in the home church will be conducted by Mr. Sawyer, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Green Bay. Do not fail to attend.

Sunday is rally day for our Sunday School, and we hope every boy and girl enrolled in our school will be present. We say to one and all "fall into line, comrades fall into line"

Mrs. Jens Hendricks is on the sick list, being affected with bronchitis.

Mrs. Ed. Bebean is spending a week or two visiting her sister at Chicago.

Henry Erdmann is having a snug frame barn built on his premises near the bridge.

Herbert Jacobs sports a new 15-foot row boat that was turned out by Jos. Harris & Son. It is a beauty.

The steamer Georgia took on a big jag of freight at the Teweles & Brandeis wharf on Tuesday on her way south.

B. Lyons & Co. made some repairs to their wharf, the past week, the work consisting of filling in with dirt and gravel.

Miss Nora Jacobs on Saturday left for Chicago, where she will spend a couple of weeks visiting with relatives and friends.

Leo Portzen and Miss Ruby Edict of Clay Banks were on Tuesday morning married at the Corpus Christi church, Fr. Peters performing the ceremony.

A. P. Johnson, Jas. Heifer, Wm. Deutsch, Mrs. Peter Loseth and Mrs. Peter Greenwood left Monday for Milwaukee to view the sights at the State fair.

Teweles & Brandeis are engaged in filling in around their dock property for the purpose of making a roadway along the railway tracks and to their pea warehouse.

C. E. Olsson is busily at work finishing up the interior of the Thos. Gillespie store on the East side. He has been employed in the town of Nasewaupee nearly all of the past season.

The gasoline launch Belle, Capt. Wm. Braunsdorf, was in port Saturday, having some minor repairs made. She is in the fruit carrying trade between here and east lake shore points.

The local canning factory has been hauling and threshing the Alaska peas that had been badly injured by the heavy rains which fell recently, as that variety can stand but little damp weather.

There is some talk of building a cement walk along the south side of Maple avenue from Rayman's corner up to the new Catholic church on Bellevue Heights, a beginning to be made this fall.

Jos. Harris & Son will build several launches during the ensuing winter, which will range from 18 to 24 feet in length. They will be disposed of as the demand is made, several having been ordered up to date.

The linemen of the W. T. Co. have been doing a great deal of work in the business center of Sturgeon Bay the past week putting in overhead cables and otherwise getting the system in the best condition for service.

Between threshing and attending court the farmers in this vicinity have been kept busy for the past week or two and few are to be seen on the streets. Only the most pressing wants of the household bring them to town these days.

Capt. Hans Eliason is engaged in having a basement constructed under the old Norwegian church edifice, which he purchased several years ago. A stone foundation is also to be built and the building otherwise bettered and improved.

Carl J. Berger threshed 700 bushels of rye on his farm in the town of Sturgeon Bay, and probably had one of the finest fields in the county. He also threshed 300 bushels of Scotch peas and 300 bushels of oats. The rye was raised on twenty acres.

Fred. W. Mank and Miss Sena Strand were on Tuesday married at Menominee. The groom formerly owned the meat market in the opera house block, which he recently discontinued, and which it is understood is to be re-opened by other parties in the near future.

Services will be held as follows at the German M. E., church: 9:30 a. m. Sunday school; 10:30 a. m. preaching; 7:30 preaching services in the English language. Topic—"The Doom of the Wicked." This is the last Sunday before Conference. All are invited.

Mrs. Chas. Beck, who has been making her home with her sister, Mrs. Jas. Cornwall, during the past summer, on Monday took her son Howard to Milwaukee for the purpose of having his eyes treated. She will be absent a week or more and on her return the family will again take up their residence on the East side.

Considerable interest was centered in the meeting of the council held Tuesday evening when a couple of saloonkeepers from this side cited to appear before that body to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked. The defendants had engaged a lawyer from Marinette to appear in their behalf and propose to fight the case to the bitter end if necessary.

A petition to the postmaster general was this week circulated asking that the post-office on this side be made a station instead of an independent office. This would do away with the name and make it a part of the East side. It would likewise abolish the postmaster and the petition requests that E. N. Anderson be made clerk of the station. The object of the movement is to combine the receipts of the two offices, as both are located in the city, and thus get proper credit for the business transacted within the corporation. This would hasten the operation of a free delivery.

John Berger of this city and Miss Louisa Miller of Liberty Grove were married at the home of the groom's brother, Carl J., Tuesday evening, the ceremony being performed by Rev. S. Groenfeldt. The affair was attended only by the immediate family relatives, it having been decided to have a quiet wedding on account of the recent death in the Berger family. The young couple will make their home on the East side, where the groom is employed by the R. P. Co. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Miller and groom a son of Mrs. Fred Berger of the neighboring town of Sturgeon Bay.

The home of Emil Zwickey was burglarized on Wednesday night of last week and $18.50 in cash stolen. The outer door had been left open with only a wire screen between the inmates. The burglar doubtless was aware of this, and by cutting through the frail netting and slipping his hand in unhooked the fastening. The family sleep upstairs and as the members all felt some what bewildered on the following morning the theory is that they were chloroformed. It is quite unsafe for people to leave their premises exposed in such a manner, and it is not very likely that any of them will retire to rest after this before first seeing to it that doors and windows are securely fastened.

Paul D. Heinemann of Chicago, who spent the past six weeks at Circle Ridge returned home the first of the week. Mr. Heinemann is a bacteriologist, being a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago and during his sojourn here has been making a study of the bacteria in milk for the benefit of science. It is claimed by those skilled in bacteriology that milk contains an element that diminishes bacteria and it is the purpose of these researches to discover if possible what elements combine to perform this operation. Mr. Heinmann intends to spend several months here next summer, and will continue his investigations. He was accompanied to these parts by Dr. Benecke and Albert Low, who returned home some time ago. They were so well pleased with the place that they too have signified their intentions to return again to spend their vacation.

A Close (?) Call.

Will and Ed. Reynolds on Sunday went from here to Hedgehog Harbor and back in their automobile, leaving at 9:15 a. m. and returning at 6:15, the roads being in excellent condition.

They report a laughable incident that took place in the extreme northern part of the county. While running along at a moderate rate of speed they saw in the distance a farmer and his family, who had stopped fully half a mile away and were hastily climbing out of the vehicle and over the fence, which they had hitched to, in order to smash up the machine.

Stopping the auto at a safe distance they waited until he had everything clear and then slowly approached the spot where the man stood holding the horse by the bridle. When probably fifty feet from him the head of the family let go his hold on the horse and bolted for the fence, which he lost no time in putting between himself and the approaching "demon." Left to itself the horse eyed the auto critically as it approached, but showed no signs of fear, backing up a few feet as the machine passed. When everything was safe and the machine half a mile away the family crawled back over the fence and hitching up resumed their journey, no doubt congratulating themselves on their narrow escape.

Bouquets for Chief Stroh.

Under the heading "A Word to Sturgeon Bay" the following article appears in the Police and Fire Dispatch, published at Chicago, under the date of September 9:

"The city council of Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, cannot afford to fail in appropriating for a single thing recommended by their up-to-date fire chief, Frank J. Stroh. A guest of Captain Schimmels, the veteran commander of Engine 25 for two weeks, there was very little in fire-service improvement in Chicago that Mr. Stroh overlooked. At the same time he managed to watch keenly the work of the convention of fire chiefs in Duluth.

"Sturgeon Bay has probably 5,000 people and they certainly can well procure the following safeguards: Waterworks in the first place; a fire hydrant on each corner; more ladders, especially one that will reach the roof of a four story building; relief valves on the three engines they have; a chemical engine and hose wagon combined; two hand pumps. When the new house has been completed, let the old one be overhauled. And keep no less than two men at each house day and night.

"Chief Stroh forgot to inspect the improved Hale swinging harness for fire horses. But, active as he is, the popular chief could not cover everything."

Dan O'Hern, one of Egg Harbor's most enterprising and up to date farmers has decided to give his cows an even chance by using a separator and shipping his cream. After trying an Omega for a while and investigating the merits of others he finally decided to join the great family of DeLavall users, having purchased a fine one of Scofield Co, the past week.
