The Simon Land Co. report the sale of 120 acres in Jacksonport from Nick Meyer to Wm. Beard of Green Bay, including all personal property. Also a livery outfit in Sawyer from Ferd. Dreher to Con. Mikel of Nasewaupee.

Henry Washburn on Tuesday moved onto the small farm owned by his brother Charles in the extreme eastern part of the city. He will continue to work in the planing mill and will travel to and from his work in his motor boat.

A vault is being constructed at the rear of the Cochems building for the new bank, which is to occupy the building. Work on the interior is being pushed rapidly as possible and it is stated that the new institution will be ready for business in a few weeks more.

The car load of western horses brought here last week from Montana met with a ready sale. There were 28 head and they were all disposed of, sales having been held in this city, and at Egg Harbor and Baileys Harbor. They brought an average price of about $68.

J. A. Jones has purchased a fish boat from A. Kalmbach and is installing an eight horse power engine in it. The boat will be used to tow a pound boat to the fishing grounds in the lake and bay, and its cabin will afford shelter during stormy weather.

Dr. Geo. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Anderson of this city, who has been ill the past year or more, is still confined to his bed in Milwaukee. However, he is reported to be feeling quite well, and hopes for his recovery are entertained.

According to a chart compiled by the Wisconsin Agriculturist, Door county has 170 automobiles, which is 49 less than our neighbor, Kewaunee county. According to reports of local auto agents, the number of autos in Door county will be materially increased this season.

Spring was ushered in officially on Saturday, March 21. The weather, however, was more in keeping with fall than spring, and on the following day there was quite a heavy fall of snow, which covered the ground several inches deep. This was soon dissipated when the sun came out.

Poulos Bros. have just installed a handsome 14-foot marble soda counter with all the latest sanitary improvements in their ice cream parlor, and it sets off the other beautiful fixtures in fine style. The boys have one of the neatest ice cream parlors in this state and are deserving of the good patronage they are receiving from the public.

Emil Nelson of Ellison Bay was here yesterday with his new fish boat formerly owned by Capt. Sarles, who lives at the canal. Mr. Nelson has been operating out of Rowleys Bay and brought in a load of fish for A. Kalmbach. This boat will be remembered as the Avis and was the largest gasoline boat by Capt. Sarles. It now has a full sized cabin and is one of the largest gasoline fish boats owned in this county.

The Goodrich boat did not come as far north as Sturgeon Bay last Monday, as had been expected. E. S. Ramage, the local agent, states that the steamer Georgia will leave Chicago for Sturgeon Bay on Saturday, April 4th, and will arrive here the following Monday. Mr. Ramage will open the dock warehouse and office next Monday morning. Lisle Sizer will be employed again this season as assistant dock agent.

Thos. Isabelle has purchased the gasoline cabin launch which was owned by Carl Dreutzer, the boat having been built a few years ago by the late T. H. Smith. Capt. Isabelle intends to take the craft to Hog Island, near the Straits, where he will use it in running to near-by places. The captain expects to spend much of his time on Hog Island in the future, having taken up a government homestead there.

But two banks in the city, the Merchants Exchange and Bank of Sawyer, placed a bid to become depository for the city's funds. The finance committee considered the rate of interest offered too low, it being a fraction above two per cent, and rejected both bids. The rate was considerably lower than that offered last year. However, in the present instance the banks were asked to furnish a surety bond for $50,000 free to the city.

If you want to be loyal to your home town, don't go to near-by cities to do your shopping. Sturgeon Bay merchants deserve your patronage, not alone on account of loyalty to your town, but because they have full lines of the latest things on the market and as low in price as similar goods can be bought for elsewhere. Read the ads. in this issue of The Democrat. They are ads. of strictly local merchants, who are here the year round, business men who form an integral part of our community.

J. M. Prentice, the "Quaker Doctor," seems to be unable to find a field in which to practice without being molested by the law. He had had no trouble in the state until he reached Door county several weeks ago, when he was arrested for practicing medicine without a license. Leaving here he got into a similar difficulty at Kewaunee, and during the present week he was requested to leave Menominee after spending a night in the county jail. He is now said to be prosecuting his work in Escanaba.

Last Friday evening was the 30th anniversary of the organization of Peninsula Lodge No. 320, I. O. O. Laurie, D. S. Ramage and C. L. Nelson. Mr. Minor was the first Noble Grand of the lodge, and at Friday evening's meeting gave a very interesting address on its early history. The local I. O. O. F. is one of the strongest fraternal organizations in the city, having a membership of 140.

No Fear of Father Dying Young.

When little Doris climbed up to her father's knee, it was quite obvious that some deep problem was troubling her mind. Presently she unburdened herself of the momentous question.

"Papa," she asked, "was it a very wise person who said 'The good die young?'"

"Yes," replied her father. "I suppose he must have been very, very wise."

"Well," said the child, after meditating for some time on the import of his answer, "I'm not really so much surprised about you; but mummy—no, I don't see how mummy managed to get growed up!"

ALIBI PERFECT.

"And you say you are innocent of the charge of stealing a rooster from Mr. Jones?" asked an Arkansas judge of a meek-looking prisoner.

"Yes, sir; and I can prove it."

"How can you prove it?"

"I can prove that I didn't steal Mr. Jones' rooster, judge, because I stole two hens from Mr. Graston the same night, and Jones lives five miles from Graston's."

"The proof is conclusive," said the judge. "Discharge the prisoner."—National Food Magazine.

And James Went.

The teacher was trying to break James of saying, "I have went," but the task seemed hopeless. So, as a last resort, she had him stay after school and write twenty times on the blackboard, "I have gone home."

While the child was occupied the teacher left the room, and was still absent when James finished the task. And to acquaint her with the fact he wrote:

"Dear Teach—I have wrote what you told me, and have went home."—National Food Magazine.

FOLLOWING FATHER.

First Trust Magnate—Hear your boy is studying law. Is he going to practice it

Second Trust Magnate (absently)—No; I reckon he'll evade it.

Eating or Sleeping.

A man is often like a horse,
We've heard some people say;
But surely both are happy when
It's time to hit the hay.

Coming to a Halt.

Two Irishmen were among a class that was being drilled in marching tactics. One was new at the business, and turning to his companion asked him the meaning of the command "Halt!"

"Why," said Mike, "when he says 'Halt,' you just bring the foot that's on the ground to the side av the foot that's in the air, an' remain motionless."

Briget's Scheme.

"Why, Bridget, you surely don't consider those windows washed?" said the lady of the house, reproachfully.

"Sure, I washed 'em nicely on the inside, mum, so we can look out," replied Bridget, "but I intentionally lift thim a little dirty on the outside so thim ignorant Jones children nixt door couldn't look in."—Everybody's Magazine.

Third Generation.

"Fifty years ago her grandfather came over in the steerage with a pack on his back."

"Well, what of it?"

"Nothing, except this paper I am reading says she departed for Europe this morning with 42 steamer trunks, three maids and tickets calling for the white-and-gold suite."

Insult Added to Injury.

"Well, did he pay you?" asked the wife of a dentist who had been to collect a bill for a full set of false teeth that he had made for a man almost a year before.

"Pay me!" growled the dentist. "Not only did he refuse to pay me, but he actually had the effrontery to gnash at me—with my teeth!"

ENVY.

The Pessimist—Ah, dog, I wisht I didn't have nothin' to worry me 'cep' fleas, like you.

Fancy Shot.

A marksman bold was William Tell.
One of the stars.
He nearly always rang the bell
And won the cigars.

Sorry He Spoke.

"Scientists state that seafaring people should always keep chocolate handy," remarked the pedantic youth. "Chocolate contains many heat units, and is valuable in time of emergency."

"How nice," responded the girl. "Better take a two-pound box when we go rowing this afternoon."
